Property & Regeneration Lunch 2024

Sponsorship Opportunities

ABOUT THE EVENT

A culmination of climate related disasters, global pandemics amongst a number of other factors over the past few years have catapulted the responsible business agenda to the top of all of our priority lists. Not least within the property sector. But whilst the sector strives towards making positive change, change comes at a cost.

At our lunch in November our two panels, bridging both residential and commercial property will explore the current state of play. What and who is driving change, if we are going to achieve our sustainability goals, and ultimately who is going responsible for it?
